Module 1 Unit 5
Grammar: Subject-verb agreement

The Rule
A verb must agree with its subject.
- A singular verb must have a singular subject.
- A plural verb must have a plural subject.

Subjects can be:
- nouns (e.g. book, technique, people, happiness)
- pronouns (e.g. it, theirs, each, all)
- longer phrases built up around a head noun (e.g. the interesting book that I bought yesterday, these techniques, people in Melbourne)
- longer phrases built up after a head pronoun (e.g. each person who came, all of the ideas presented)
